Starbucks Energy Refreshers go blended, adding a smooth, frozen twist

Just as summer is heating up, Starbucks is introducing an icy way to cool down with new Blended Refreshers. Launching on July 14, the new Blended Energy Refreshers add a smooth, frozen twist to the Refreshers lineup. Crafted with bright fruit flavors and blended with ice, these beverages offer a refreshing, vibrant way to enjoy your favorite Refreshers beverages.

New Blended Passionfruit Guava Lemonade Energy Refresher

The new Passionfruit Guava Refresher brings a vibrant, tropical flavor to Starbucks Refreshers lineup. Available for a limited time, customers can enjoy the new flavor as a handcrafted Passionfruit Guava Refresher with popping mango-pineapple flavored pearls, or blended with lemonade for a smooth, frozen sip in the Blended Passionfruit Guava Lemonade Energy Refresher. Customers can also customize it with lemonade or with coconutmilk to enjoy it as the new Island Colada Drink.

Blended Mango Dragonfruit Lemonade Energy Refresher

Blended Mango Dragonfruit Lemonade Energy Refresher combines mango and dragonfruit flavors with real dragonfruit pieces, lemonade and ice for a bright, refreshing sip.

How to make it yours

Starbucks Refreshers are easy to customize. Any Refresher can be blended for a smooth, frozen twist, customized with lemonade or coconutmilk, and tailored with light caffeine (standard), a boost of caffeine (Energy Refresher), or no caffeine. Blended Energy Refreshers contain up to 105mg of caffeine in a grande and are an excellent source of B vitamins.
